Dorje Tsering Chenaktsang is a filmmaker, poet, writer and artist from Amdo. His documentary films include Tantric Yogi, Ani Lachem, Yartsa Rinpoche, and Kokonor: An Endangered Lake — the film featured in this special screening. His screenwriting credits also include the acclaimed film, Prince of the Himalayas. Writing under the pen name Jangbu, Dorje is one of the most well-known contemporary Tibetan poets and his work has been translated and published in several languages including an English translation of The Nine-Eyed Agate and in French, Le hachoir invisible. He currently lives in France.

Free and Open to the Public

Sponsored by:

The Center for Contemplative Science & Compassion-Based Ethics

The Michael C. Carlos Museum

The Hightower Fund • The Joni Winston Fund

Drepung Loseling Monastery, Inc. • The Dalai Lama Trust